4. RANGE OF OCCUPATIONS ACCESSIBLE TO THE HOLDER OF THE CERTIFICATE

The Sustainable environment advisor can work in different public or private organisations or as a self-employed professional in collaborative ventures (a combination of government, civil society organisations and/or private individuals). With his knowledge of ecology, biodiversity, circular economy, cultural differences, healthy lifestyle and nutrition, sustainable energy and water management and organisation and supervision of projects, he is able to tackle issues in a practical approach and present integrated solutions. The combination of knowledge and skills, and the integrated approach in the sustainable living environment, enables consultants to work for housing associations, neighbourhood management organisations, in adapting the residential environment, to improve the quality of life or to organise social events to promote wellbeing.
